Urgent notice to University of Ljubljana employees and students

In view of the current situation, the University of Ljubljana Rector has made the following

DECISION

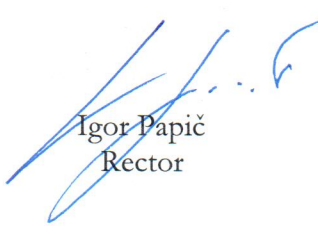

Until and including 23 March 2020 or until this decision is revoked, all forms of direct instruction (classes) are cancelled and personal contact is to be limited in all other activities (where possible). Other forms of communication are to be used instead (email, video conferences, online meetings, telephones, etc.). Contacts between employees and students and external associates are to be limited as much as possible.

Direct instruction is to be replaced with remote instruction and individual study.

This decision shall be valid until it is revoked, but at least until 23 March 2020, and shall apply immediately.

We will keep you informed of any further developments.

Best regards,

Igor Papič
Rector
